Write an article if you were Emily (ex. 4, p. 16). Use the Brian's article as the example.

5. Listening

Listen to the text and do the task below it.

My friend Bernie is a very sensible and responsible person. If I need someone to help me, Bernie always appears in the proper time. He's my real friend as they say “a friend is need is a friend indeed”. He's friendly and well-wishing. Though I enjoy outgoing with him, I trust him if he were me. Hope, he can trust me, too. I accept him as he is. But nobody's perfect. Bernie thought he was too fat and it was his fault. It's probably so, because some time ago he liked to eat McDonald's hamburgers. He was gaining weight which was a great problem to him. He asked for advice here and there but nobody could help him. Then, he decided to go on a diet. He stopped eating fast food and, moreover, started buying more fruit and vegetables. I haven't seen him for a month. After I had seen him again, he lost a few pounds. But he wanted to lose more. So, I suggested joining a gym. Bernie can't stand exercising, but he agreed to try it. Now we exercise three times a week and go swimming twice a week. He looks better and feels better. He became more confident and sociable.

Choose the best answer to the questions or statements:

1. Bernie is a very ... person.
a) responsible and self-confident b) selfish and responsible
c) helpful and sensible
2. Bernie is a
a) true friend b) friend of amusement
c) fun friend
3. Bernie was too fat and he thought it was his
a) mistake b) crash
c) fault
